One of the things that I was impressed when I joined a toastmasters club was that how each member whose occupation, nationality, sex and taste varies demonstrate his or her distinctive ability in making speech, evaluation, etc which makes meetings and club filled with full of vigor.

In actuality, meetings and contests are not the only places where members demonstrate their distinctive abilities, but also in the work of public relations. Since public relations work is not my profession, I've gathered selected professionals in advertisement, media and public relations among the members of District 76. I would like to work hard together with them to increase the publicity of this wonderful organization utilizing their distinctive abilities!
